

1. General information

Part 1 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, Broadcasting and Telecom Regulatory Policy CRTC 2010-958, provides the basic structure for a written proceeding that is initiated by an applicant who files an application with the Commission and serves any respondents. The Commission posts these applications on its website. The public is given an opportunity to file submissions as Interveners or Respondents within 30 days, and the applicant is given an additional 10 days to respond. The Commission examines all of the written submissions and issues a decision. These proceedings are generally referred to as "Part 1 proceedings."

Applicants that have any questions related to this application form may contact a Commission specialist at 1-866-781-1911.

2. Procedural Request

The Rules of Procedure allow an interested person to request that the Commission exercise a power under the Rules of Procedure or change the Rules of Procedure for a specific proceeding (sections 5 and 7). This is generally called a procedural request. You may consult the Guidelines on the CRTC Rules of Practice and Procedure, Broadcasting and Telecom Information Bulletin CRTC 2010-959 for more information.

Is the applicant requesting that the Commission make an exception to its Rules of Procedure in the treatment of this application?

No

3. Application

The Commission will return the application if it has not been duly completed. The onus will be on the applicant to submit a complete application that provides all of the relevant information, identify all regulatory issues raised in the application and provide supporting documentation.

Submit a website address or email address where an electronic copy of the application may be requested:

Websitewww.ncc.ca3.1 Description of application*a. Provide a description of your application:

On June 25, 2015 the CRTC advised that it had revoked the broadcasting licences of Aboriginal Voices Radio (AVR). Given that AVR is no longer in existence as a licensee, it will not be possible to proceed under the current COL. Therefore, we request to redirect the portion of our remaining CCD commitment originally scheduled for AVR to parties and initiatives fulfilling the definition of eligible initiatives set out in paragraph 108 of Commercial Radio Policy 2006, Broadcasting Public Notice CRTC 2006-158, 15 December 2006. For further clarity, this represents $100,000 in the 2015 broadcast year and $83,333 in the 2016 broadcast year. Vancouver has a very vibrant music industry. We believe that directing this portion of our CCD commitment to support a local Vancouver talent initiative will further the objective of creating and promoting Canadian audio content. Our proposed plan includes elements such as support for Vancouver's Music Heals program which combines the development of emerging Canadian talent with the therapeutic aspects of music to facilitate wellness.

b. Provide the rationale for the proposed amendment(s) including a clear and concise statement of the relevant facts as well as the grounds of the application:

On June 25, 2015 the CRTC advised that it had revoked the broadcasting licences of Aboriginal Voices Radio (AVR). Given that AVR is no longer in existence, it will not be possible to proceed under the current COL.

c. Provide the nature of the decision sought:

Approval for re-direction of CCD funds.

d. Specify the decision number which last renewed your licence (or issued the licence), and any other relevant CRTC decisions in relation to your amendment:

2014-427

e. If this amendment is approved, will there be any programming changes as a result of this amendment?

No

3.2 Accordance with Acts, Regulations and Policies

It is important to remember that no matter what type of application you are filing, it will be reviewed not only in light of the Acts and their regulations, but also in light of the Commission's policies. Therefore, you must research any policies that might apply to your type of application and explain how the application addresses the policy. If your application proposes something that is not in line with the policy, you must explain why the policy is not appropriate in your circumstances. You may consult the related documents of your application under Forms and My CRTC Account for a list of Commission policies and regulations.

a. Is this application for an amendment to a condition of licence to implement a regulatory policy of the Commission or to incorporate a standard condition?

No

b. Are there any Commission regulations, policies or practices that are relevant to your application?

No

3.3 Other application(s) before the Commission

Are there one or more applications before the Commission regarding this undertaking?

No

4. Financial analysis and considerations*4.1 Will the proposed amendment result in a change to existing financial projections?

No

4.2 Do you consider that your proposed amendment is necessary for the financial viability of your station?

No

You must complete section 4.4

4.4 Will the proposed amendment have a financial impact on other stations in the market?

No

5. Respondents

Pursuant to section 22(1)b) of the CRTC Rules of Procedure (“The Rules”), an application must be served on any respondent. A respondent is defined in section 1 of the Rules as “a person that is adverse in interest to an applicant”.

The onus is on applicants to clearly identify and provide service of the application to all respondents.

Determining who is a respondent to a particular application depends on the specific facts of the application. You can find additional information in the Guidelines on the CRTC Rules of Practice and Procedure, Information Bulletin CRTC 2010-959 that could greatly assist you in the determination of who could potentially be a respondent.

The table below lists the most common examples of respondents who must be served with an application. This list is not exhaustive, nor is it determinative, as the type of respondents may vary according to the particular circumstances of each application (e.g. technical, economic or other).

A person that believes it should have been served as a respondent may file a procedural request with the Commission requesting that they be considered as such. Such request may however cause delays in processing certain applications.

Persons generally considered respondents

Broadcasting
Type of application	Respondents
Radio amendments to remove specialty format	Existing radio stations (low-power or otherwise) licensed to serve the proposed market
Television and radio technical amendments	All television or radio stations whose originating or rebroadcasted signal would suffer interference or that would be required to vacate their frequency or be impacted economically
Television and radio amendments to add, remove or amend a condition of licence requiring expenditures to a specifically named initiative (i.e. Canadian content development contributions, tangible benefits)	The persons responsible for the named initiative(s) where the expenditures would be reduced or payment schedule altered
Amendment to the nature of service of a pay or specialty service	Category A television services with which the proposed service could be considered competitive
Broadcasting distribution undertaking amendments to distribute a distant signal	The local television station whose distant signal is proposed to be carried
Addition to the list of non-Canadian programming services authorized for distribution	Licensed Canadian pay and specialty television services with which the proposed service could be considered competitive

In light of this table, have you provided service of your application on all respondents?

N/A

6. Request for documents to be designated as confidential

Sections 30 to 34 of the Implementation of new Rules of Practice and Procedure, Broadcasting and Telecom Regulatory Policy CRTC 2010-958, set out a process by which parties to Commission proceedings may file information on the record of a public proceeding in confidence.

A party filing information can "designate" it as confidential at the time it is filed with the Commission (section 31) if it falls into one of the following categories:

1. Information that is a trade secret;
2. Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information that is confidential and that is treated consistently in a confidential manner by the person who submitted it; or
3. Information the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected
  - i. To result in material financial loss or gain to any person;
  - ii. To prejudice the competitive position of any person; or
  - iii. To affect contractual or other negotiations of any person.

At the time that the party files the information it designates as confidential, it must provide an abridged version of the document along with an explanation of how the information falls into a category of information listed in section 31. The party must provide a detailed rationale to explain why the disclosure of the information is not in the public interest (section 32(1)).

The confidential version of the document must be filed separately and must be marked "CONFIDENTIAL" on each page. If the document is filed electronically, each file containing confidential information must include "confidential" in the file name.

The abridged version of the document and the reasons for the designation of information as confidential will be placed on the public record of the proceeding.

Please consult the Procedures for filing confidential information and requesting its disclosure in Commission proceedings, Broadcasting and Telecom Information Bulletin CRTC 2010-961 for complete process for filing confidential information.

Are you requesting for some information to be designated as confidential?

No

7. Documents to be appended to the application and naming convention of electronic documents

Documents should be submitted in an accessible format (Broadcasting and Telecom Information Bulletin CRTC 2015-242)

The following documents should be submitted as separate electronic documents using the naming convention specified below. The document number (Doc#) indicates the ascending order in which the documents should appear on the public file.

The document name should not exceed 150 characters or include any special characters (% , $ , & , / , () , # , etc).

The document should not be submitted in .xhtml format.

Additional documents (if necessary)

All additional documents must use the following naming convention: Doc# - "Specify name of document" .

Electronic file(s)
- No files attached

Confidential document(s)

Not applicable

Abridged version of each confidential document
